

6/1-7#3 The Victory of the Overcomers Seen with Daniel and His Companions: I. The principle of the Lord's recovery is seen with "Daniel and his companions" (Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah), as overcomers who were absolutely one with God in their victory over Satan's devices: A In his devilish tempting of Daniel and his companions, Nebuchadnezzar changed their names, which indicated that they belonged to God, to names that made them one with idols. Dan. 1:3 Then the king told...the chief of his eunuchs to bring some of the sons of Israel, 4 ...children in whom was no defect, who were good in appearance, who showed insight in all wisdom, understanding in knowledge, and apprehension in thought, and in whom was the ability to stand in the king's palace...7 And the leader of the eunuchs gave them names...B The name Daniel, meaning "God is my Judge," was changed to Belteshazzar, meaning "the prince of Bel," or "the favorite of Bel." C The name Hananiah, meaning "Jah has graciously given," or "favored of Jah," was changed to Shadrach, meaning "enlightened by the sun god." D The name Mishael, meaning "Who is what God is?" was changed to Meshach, meaning "Who can be like the goddess Shach?" E The name Azariah, meaning "Jah has helped," was changed to Abed-nego, meaning "the faithful servant of the fire god Nego." II. Daniel and his companions were victorious over the demonic diet: A Nebuchadnezzar's devilish temptation was first to seduce the four brilliant young descendants of God's defeated elect, Daniel and his three companions, to be defiled by partaking of his unclean food, food offered to idols. B For Daniel and his companions to eat that food would have been to take in the defilement, to take in the idols, and thus to become one with Satan. C When Daniel and his companions refused to eat Nebuchadnezzar's unclean food and chose instead to eat vegetables, in principle they rejected the tree of the knowledge of good and evil and took the tree of life, which caused them to be one with God. 1:8 But Daniel set his heart not to defile himself with the king's choice provision and with the wine that the king drank, so he requested of the leader of the eunuchs that he might not defile himself. 16 Therefore the steward withheld their portion of the choice provision and the wine that they were to drink and gave them vegetables. D The Lord's recovery is the recovery of the eating of Jesus for the building up of the church. E We can eat Jesus by eating His words and by being careful to contact and be with those who call on Him out of a pure heart. III. Daniel and his companions were victorious over the devilish blinding that prevents people from seeing the great human image and the crushing stone as the divine history within human history: A The corporate Christ as the stone and the mountain, the Bridegroom with His bride, the corporate man of God with the breath of God, will crush and slay Antichrist and his armies by the breath, the sword, of His mouth. B Christ, as the living and precious stone, foundation stone, cornerstone, and topstone of God's building, infuses us with Himself as the preciousness to transform us into living and precious stones for His building. IV. Daniel and his companions were victorious over the seduction of idol worship: A Whatever is not the true God in our regenerated spirit is an idol replacing God; whatever is not in the spirit or of the spirit is an idol. B The enemy of the Body is the self that replaces God with its self-interest, self-exaltation, self-glory, self-beauty, and self-strength; in and for the Body we deny the self and do not preach ourselves but Christ Jesus as Lord. C Daniel's companions had a true spirit of martyrdom; they stood for the Lord as the unique God and against idol worship at the cost of their lives, being thrown at the command of Nebuchadnezzar into a blazing furnace. 3:17 If it be so, our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the blazing furnace of fire, and He will deliver us out of your hand, O king. 18 But if He does not, let it be known to you, O king, that we will not serve your gods nor worship the golden image that you have set up. 3:23 And these three men, ..., fell into the midst of the blazing furnace of fire bound up. D When Nebuchadnezzar looked into the furnace, he saw four men walking in the midst of the fire; the fourth one was the excellent Christ as the Son of Man, who had come to be with His three suffering, persecuted overcomers and to make the fire a pleasant place in which to walk about. E The three overcomers did not need to ask God to deliver them from the furnace; Christ as the Son of Man—the One who is qualified and capable of sympathizing with God's people in everything — came to be their Companion and take care of them in their suffering, by His presence making their place of suffering a pleasant situation. V. Daniel and his companions were victorious over the covering that hinders people from seeing the ruling of the heavens by the God of the heavens: A As those who have been chosen by God to be His people for Christ's preeminence, we are under God's heavenly rule for the purpose of making Christ preminent. 4:34 ...For His dominion is an eternal dominion, and His kingdom is from generation to generation; 35 But He does according to His will ... And there is no one who can resist His hand ... B "He is able to abase those who walk in pride." (4:37b) 37 Now I praise and exalt and honor the King of the heavens, because all His works are truth and His ways justice, and because He is able to abase those who walk in pride. VI.

Daniel and his companions were victorious over the ignorance concerning the result of the debauchery before God and the insult to His holiness: A Belshazzar's taking the vessels that were for God's worship in His holy temple at Jerusalem and using them in worshipping idols was an insult to God's holiness; he should have learned the lesson from Nebuchadnezzar's experience; however, he did not learn the lesson and suffered as a result. B "An excellent spirit and knowledge and insight, and the interpretation of dreams, the declaring of riddles, and the resolving of problems [lit., knots] were found in this Daniel" (5:12a) C "You..., Belshazzar, have not humbled your heart, though you knew all this; but you have exalted yourself against the Lord of the heavens; and they have brought the vessels of His house before you, and you and your lords, your wives, and your concubines have drunk wine from them; and you have praised the gods of silver and of gold, of bronze, iron, wood, and stone, which do not see nor hear nor know. But the God in whose hand is your breath and to whom all your ways belong, you have not honored." (22-23) VI. Daniel and his companions were victorious over the subtlety that prohibited the faithfulness of the overcomers in the worship of God: A. The center of Daniel 6 is man's prayer for the carrying out of God's economy; Daniel depended on prayer to do what man could not do and to understand what man could not understand; there is no other way to bring God's economy into fullness and into fulfillment except by prayer; this is the inner secret of this chapter. B Daniel prayed three times daily with his windows open toward Jerusalem; through his gracious prayer God brought Israel back to their fathers' land; God will listen to our prayer when our prayer is toward Christ (typified by the Holy Land), toward the kingdom of God (typified by the holy city), and toward the house of God (typified by the holy temple) as the goal in God's eternal economy. 6:10 Now when Daniel came to know that the writing had been signed, he went to his house (in his upper room he had windows open toward Jerusalem) and three times daily he knelt on his knees and prayed and gave thanks before his God, because he had always done so previously. 11 ... these men assembled and found Daniel making petition and supplication before his God.

Testimony After completing graduate school, I served full-time for five years. Then, in 1990, at the age of 29, I entered the workforce. At that time, Japan was at the height of the bubble economy, and people were rushing headlong after money and success. In those days, Japanese companies operated under a lifetime employment system, and employees were expected to demonstrate absolute loyalty to their company. As a result, excessive overtime work (often more than 100 hours per month) and late-night drinking gatherings for business relationships were widespread. Beginning in the late 1980s, the problem of death from overwork became increasingly serious. Because it was considered a particularly Japanese phenomenon, it even became internationally known by the Japanese term "karoushi." During this period of intense workplace pressure, many people in Western countries referred to Japanese workers as "business animals." I entered the workforce without fully understanding this background, and my supervisors often rebuked me, considering me an unmotivated employee. I brought this matter before the Lord and prayed. Then the Lord spoke to me inwardly, saying, "It is only proper to work seriously. Even in this dark world, work and learn more diligently together with Me."

From 1986 to 1988, I participated in the Taiwan Full-Time Training (FTTT) for two years. During that time, I personally heard Brother Lee speak concerning: ① the vision of God's economy, ② God's ordained way to carry out this vision, and ③ how this way builds up the Body of Christ, brings back the Lord, and turns the age. This vision became the driving force of my life as a trainee. After changing jobs and moving to Kobe, and later becoming a manager, I repeatedly remembered this vision and prayed: "Lord Jesus, I will work seriously. Otherwise, I would become unrighteous toward my company. However, whether my business life succeeds or fails, I cannot forget God's eternal economy. Ultimately, my business life must be for the carrying out of God's economy. Many times, I have been in complete confusion, crushed by pressure and busyness, and almost lost my faith. Yet I cannot pretend that I have not seen God's economy. Even if I were dismissed from my company for the sake of God's economy, I would still hold to God's economy in faith."

The Lord heard these prayers centered on God's eternal economy. I believe that these prayers were a major reason why, from the age of 29 until now, at 66 years old, I have been able to continue in faith and serve diligently throughout my business life. Furthermore, the secret to maintaining a martyr spirit is to fight in one accord with my wife, remain in the church life, and live a life blended together with the saints. From April 1992 until the present in 2026, the church has continued to increase by basically more than 10% every year (except during the COVID pandemic from 2020 to 2024; even during that period, the number of saints did not decrease). Lord Jesus, continue and further accelerate the advance of the church in Kobe!
